FORDHAM UNIVERSITY LIBRARY NEW YORK, N.Y.

General Statement.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE enjoys the powers and privileges of a University, and is conducted by the Jesuit Fathers. It is situated at Fordham, in a picturesque and healthy part of New York county, and is reached in thirty minutes by the Harlem trains, which leave the Grand Central Depot every half hour; moreover, it is easily accessible at all hours and seasons, either by private conveyance over the great boulevards, or by the horse-cars, which lead to the gate at the foot of the College lawn.

The grounds are extensive, well laid out for College purposes, and afford uncommon facilities for athletic sports, for bathing, and for skating. Ample opportunities are also provided for indoor amusements. The buildings are spacious, thoroughly ventilated, well heated by steam, and lighted by gas. The Chemical Laboratory, the Philosophical Apparatus, and the Cabinet of Natural History occupy a separate building; considerable additions are made yearly to this department. Besides the College Library, which contains 20,000 volumes, there is a Circulating Library of over 5,000 volumes, especially adapted to the needs of the Students.

Instruction.

The Collegiate year is divided into two terms; the first begins on the first Wednesday of September, the second on the first of February. The best time for admission is at the beginning of either term, but applicants may be received at any time during the year. Candidates for admission, whether coming from their homes, or from other Colleges, are required to present testimonials of good moral character. They are examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in the class to which they are entitled by their attainments.

The scholarship of each Student is determined by weekly competitions in some branch of study, and by examinations. There are two examinations of all the classes every year, one at the end of January, and the other at the end of June. In each of the semi-annual examinations, the several classes are examined in all the branches studied during the previous half year. Any Student failing in the January examination is reduced to a lower class, unless he makes up for the deficiency within a specified time, besides keeping up with the class in its regular work; failure in the June examination debars a Student from advancement to a higher class. Testimonials are awarded for superior success in these examinations.

At the beginning of every month the standing of each Student, for conduct and application, during the previous month, is publicly read out in the College Hall, and testimonials are given to those who have attained to the specified degree of excellence.

A record of the weekly competitions, of the monthly standing, and of the general examinations of each Student is kept in the books of the College, and a copy sent to his parents or guardian semi-annually.

Prizes and honors are awarded at the Commencement, and published in the annual Catalogue: for proficiency, for application, and for conduct, they are determined by the weekly competitions and by the monthly standing; for scholarship in the several branches of study, by competitions held immediately before the annual Commencement. No one deficient at either of the general examinations can compete for prizes or honors.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred at the close of the College course. The candidates for this honor are required to undergo, before the Faculty, a successful examination in Natural, Mental, and Moral Philosophy, in Evidences of Religion, in the Philosophy of History, and in the higher Mathematics. Such candidates must also give evidence of having attained a specified standard in Greek and Latin, and in General Literature.

Graduates who desire a fuller mental training may, in the Post-Graduate class, pursue the study of Natural Law, and of other branches of higher education. This second year is of the greatest importance to young men. At the end of this year the degree of Master of Arts is conferred, after a satisfactory examination.

Discipline.

The rules of the College have for their sole end to strengthen and develop the moral character, to promote good breeding, and to secure the order essential to a successful pursuit of learning. These rules, which are read and explained to all, must be accepted and observed faithfully. The manner of enforcing them is firm, yet mild and paternal, and appeals especially to honor, to conscience, and to religion.

The Students form three distinct divisions according to age. Each division has its separate study halls, dormitories, and play grounds, its own gymnasium and officers.

The correspondence of Students is under the supervision of the College authorities. No books, papers, periodicals, etc., are allowed among the Students until they have been examined and approved.

Students are not permitted to go beyond the College bounds without leave, and without the company of an officer.

The visiting days are Sunday afternoon and Thursday in Summer; Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in winter.

The Summer vacation begins on the last Wednesday in June, and closes on the first Wednesday in September. There is a vacation of one week at Christmas, but none at Easter.

It is of the utmost importance that Students be present every day of the Collegiate year. Absence subjects them to the loss of good marks, and adds to the difficulty of obtaining prizes and honors. Permission, therefore, to visit New York City or home, is granted only at the request of parents or guardians, and for reasons deemed imperative by the President. Moreover, all Students are required not to stay home beyond the time allotted for vacations, as competition for prizes begins immediately. The attention of parents and guardians is especially called to these regulations, and their co-operation is earnestly solicited.

Students whose parents do not reside in New York City, are not allowed to visit it unless in company of an officer of the College.

The ordinary causes of dismissal are: insubordination, continued inapplication to study, and bad conduct.

Expenses.

All the charges are payable half-yearly in advance.

Entrance fee, to be paid only once,	$10 00
Tuition, Board and Lodging, per annum,	300 00
Washing and mending of linen, per annum,	30 00
Medical attendance, per annum,	5 00
Day Scholars per annum,	60 00

Use of Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus, $5 per annum, for those who attend the classes of Chemistry and Physics; Drawing, $60 00; Piano and use of Piano, $70 00; Violin, Flute, etc., $60 each; Spanish and German, $20 00 each per annum, for those who wish to learn them.

There are other slight expenses for games and societies which the Students form among themselves.

No deduction will be made for absence or withdrawal from College, except on account of sickness or dismissal, and in these cases no deduction will be made for a shorter period than one month.

Books, stationery, clothes, etc., are furnished by the College at current prices, or may be procured by parents or guardians. No uniform is prescribed; all the College requires in the matter of clothing is, that each Student should have, in quality and quantity, what befits a young gentleman. Each one should, on entering or on returning after either vacation, bring enough of clothing to last until the next vacation.

Articles of clothing, books, etc., will not be furnished by the College, unless a deposit for that purpose be made with the Treasurer. No advances will be made beyond the deposit.

Pocket money, if any be allowed by parents or guardians, should be left in the hands of the Treasurer, to be given as prudence may suggest or occasion require.

Students coming from a distance, should have guardians appointed in the vicinity, who will be responsible for the regular payment of bills, and will receive the Student if for any reason he should have to withdraw from the College.

A Gold Medal, worth fifty dollars, is yearly awarded to the writer of the best biographical essay on some eminent Catholic layman of the present times, or of past ages. This prize originated with the Most Rev. John Hughes, Archbishop of New York. This medal has since been given every year by friends of the College.

We would respectfully suggest to the friends of the College a very good and honorable work, namely, the founding of prizes and scholarships. Such foundations would stimulate young men to greater ardor for serious studies, and, while showing the public spirit and zeal of the founders for education, would enable the College to bestow higher rewards on successful exertions.

St. John's Debating Society

was organized in 1854. Its object is to accustom its members, by means of literary discussion, to speak with ease and fluency on useful and interesting subjects. The Society has two public exhibitions during the year.

General Statement.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE enjoys the powers and privileges of a University, and is conducted by the Jesuit Fathers. It is situated at Fordham, in a picturesque and healthy part of New York county, and is reached in thirty minutes by the Harlem trains, which leave the Grand Central Depot every half hour; moreover, it is easily accessible at all hours and seasons, either by private conveyance over the great boulevards, or by the horse-cars, which lead to the gate at the foot of the College lawn.

The grounds are extensive, well laid out for College purposes, and afford uncommon facilities for athletic sports, for bathing, and for skating. Ample opportunities are also provided for indoor amusements. The buildings are spacious, thoroughly ventilated, well heated by steam, and lighted by gas. The Chemical Laboratory, the Philosophical Apparatus, and the Cabinet of Natural History occupy a separate building; considerable additions are made yearly to this department. Besides the College Library, which contains 20,000 volumes, there is a Circulating Library of over 5,000 volumes, especially adapted to the needs of the Students.

Instruction.

The Collegiate year is divided into two terms; the first begins on the first Wednesday of September, the second on the first of February. The best time for admission is at the beginning of either term, but applicants may be received at any time during the year. Candidates for admission, whether coming from their homes, or from other Colleges, are required to present testimonials of good moral character. They are examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in the class to which they are entitled by their attainments.

The scholarship of eaeh student is determined by weekly competitions in some branch of study, and by examinations. There are two examinations of all the elasses every year, one at the end of January, and the other at the end of June. In each of the semi-annual examinations, the several classes are examined in all the branches studied during the previous half year. Any Student failing in the January examination is redueed to a lower class, unless he makes up for the deficiency within a specified time, besides keeping up with the elass in its regular work; failure in the June examination debars a Student from advancement to a higher class. Testimonials are awarded for superior success in these examinations.

At the beginning of every month the standing of each Student, for conduct and applieation, during the previous month, is publiely read out in the College Hall, and testimonials are given to those who have attained to the specified degree of excellence.

A record of the weekly eompetitions, of the monthly standing, and of the general examinations of eaeh Student is kept in the books of the College, and a eopy sent to his parents or guardian semi-annually.

Prizes and honors are awarded at the Commencement, and published in the annual Catalogue: for profieiency, for application, and for eonduet, they are determined by the weekly eompetitions and by the monthly standing; for scholarship in the several branches of study, by competitions held immediately before the annual Commencement. No one defieient at either of the general examinations ean compete for prizes or honors.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is eonferred at the close of the College course. The candidates for this honor are required to undergo, before the Faculty, a successful examination in Natural, Mental, and Moral Philosophy, in Evidences of Religion, in the Philosophy of History, and in the higher Mathematics. Sueh eandidates must also give evidence of having attained a specified standard in Greek and Latin, and in General Literature.

Graduates who desire a fuller mental training may, in the Post-Graduate class, pursue the study of Natural Law, and of other branches of higher education. This second year is of the greatest importance to young men. At the end of this year the degree of Master of Arts is eonferred, after a satisfactory examination.

Discipline.

The rules of the College have for their sole end to strengthen and develop the moral character, to promote good breeding, and to secure the order essential to a successful pursuit of learning. These rules, which are read and explained to all, must be accepted and observed faithfully. The manner of enforcing them is firm, yet mild and paternal, and appeals especially to honor, to conscience, and to religion.

The Students form three distinct divisions according to age. Each division has its separate study halls, dormitories, and play grounds, its own gymnasium and officers.

The correspondence of Students is under the supervision of the College authorities. No books, papers, periodicals, etc., are allowed among the Students until they have been examined and approved.

Students are not permitted to go beyond the College bounds without leave, and without the company of an officer.

The visiting days are Sunday afternoon and Thursday in Summer; Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in winter.

The Summer vacation begins on the last Wednesday in June, and closes on the first Wednesday in September. There is a vacation of one week at Christmas, but none at Easter.

It is of the utmost importance that Students be present every day of the Collegiate year. Absence subjects them to the loss of good marks, and adds to the difficulty of obtaining prizes and honors. Permission, therefore, to visit New York city or home, is granted only at the request of parents or guardians, and for reasons deemed imperative by the President. Moreover, all Students are required not to stay at home beyond the time allotted for vacations, as competition for prizes begins immediately. The attention of parents and guardians is especially called to these regulations, and their co-operation is earnestly solicited.

Students whose parents do not reside in New York city, are not allowed to visit it unless in company of an officer of the College.

The ordinary causes of dismissal are: insubordination, continued inapplication to study, and bad conduct.

A Gold Medal worth fifty dollars, is yearly awarded to the writer of the best biographical essay on some eminent Catholic layman of the present times, or of past ages. This prize originated with the most Rev. John Hughes, Archbishop of New York. This medal has since been given every year by friends of the College.

We would respectfully suggest to the friends of the College a very good and honorable work, namely, the founding of prizes and scholarships. Such foundations would stimulate young men to greater ardor for serious studies, and, while showing the public spirit and zeal of the founders for education, would enable the College to bestow higher rewards on successful exertions.

St. John's Debating Society

was organized in 1854. Its object is to accustom its members, by means of literary discussion, to speak with ease and fluency on useful and interesting subjects. The Society has two public exhibitions during the year.

General Statement.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE enjoys the powers and privileges of a University, and is conducted by the Jesuit Fathers. It is situated at Fordham, in a picturesque and healthy part of New York county, and is reached in thirty minutes by the Harlem trains, which leave the Grand Central Depot every half hour; moreover, it is easily accessible at all hours and seasons, either by private conveyance over the great boulevards, or by the horse-cars, which lead to the gate at the foot of the College lawn.

The grounds are extensive, well laid out for College purposes, and afford uncommon facilities for athletic sports, for bathing, and for skating. Ample opportunities are also provided for indoor amusements. The buildings are spacious, thoroughly ventilated, well heated by steam, and lighted by gas. The Chemical Laboratory, the Philosophical Apparatus, and the Cabinet of Natural History occupy a separate building; considerable additions are made yearly to this department. Besides the College Library, which contains 20,000 volumes, there is a Circulating Library of over 5,000 volumes, especially adapted to the needs of the Students.

Instruction.

The Collegiate year is divided into two terms: the first begins on the first Wednesday of September, the second on the first of February. The best time for admission is at the beginning of either term, but applicants may be received at any time during the year. Candidates for admission, whether coming from their homes, or from other Colleges, are required to present testimonials of good moral character. They are examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in the class to which they are entitled by their attainments.

The scholarship of each Student is determined by weekly competitions in some branch of study, and by examinations. There are two examinations of all the classes every year, one at the end of January, and the other at the end of June. In each of the semi-annual examinations, the several classes are examined in all the branches studied during the previous half year. Any Student failing in the January examination is reduced to a lower class, unless he makes up for the deficiency within a specified time, besides keeping up with the class in its regular work; failure in the June examination debars a Student from advancement to a higher class. Testimonials are awarded for superior success in these examinations.

At the beginning of every month the standing of each Student, for conduct and application, during the previous month, is publicly read out in the College Hall, and testimonials are given to those who have attained to the specified degree of excellence.

A record of the weekly competitions, of the monthly standing, and of the general examinations of each Student is kept in the books of the College, and a copy sent to his parents or guardian semi-annually.

Prizes and honors are awarded at the Commencement, and published in the annual Catalogue: for proficiency, for application, and for conduct, they are determined by the weekly competitions and by the monthly standing; for scholarship in the several branches of study, by competitions held immediately before the annual Commencement. No one deficient at either of the general examinations can compete for prizes or honors.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred at the close of the College course. The candidates for this honor are required to undergo, before the Faculty, a successful examination in Natural, Mental, and Moral Philosophy, in Evidences of Religion, in the Philosophy of History, and in the higher Mathematics. Such candidates must also give evidence of having attained a specified standard in Greek and Latin, and in General Literature.

Graduates who desire a fuller mental training may, in the Post-Graduate class, pursue the study of Natural Law, and of other branches of higher education. This second year is of the greatest importance to young men. At the end of this year the degree of Master of Arts is conferred, after a satisfactory examination.

Discipline.

The rules of the College have for their sole end to strengthen and develop the moral character, to promote good breeding, and to secure the order essential to a successful pursuit of learning. These rules, which are read and explained to all, must be accepted and observed faithfully. The manner of enforcing them is firm, yet mild and paternal, and appeals especially to honor, to conscience, and to religion.

The Students form three distinct divisions according to age. Each division has its separate study halls, dormitories, and play grounds, its own gymnasium and officers.

The correspondence of Students is under the supervision of the College authorities. No books, papers, periodicals, etc., are allowed among the Students until they have been examined and approved.

Students are not permitted to go beyond the College bounds without leave, and without the company of an officer.

The visiting days are Sunday afternoon and Thursday in Summer; Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in Winter.

The Summer vacation begins on the last Wednesday in June, and closes on the first Wednesday in September. There is a vacation of one week at Christmas, but none at Easter.

It is of the utmost importance that Students be present every day of the Collegiate year. Absence subjects them to the loss of good marks, and adds to the difficulty of obtaining prizes and honors. Permission, therefore, to visit New York City or home, is granted only at the request of parents or guardians, and for reasons deemed imperative by the President. Moreover, all Students are required not to stay at home beyond the time allotted for vacations, as competition for prizes begins immediately. The attention of parents and guardians is especially called to these regulations, and their co-operation is earnestly solicited.

Students whose parents do not reside in New York City, are not allowed to visit it unless in company of an officer of the College.

The ordinary causes of dismissal are: insubordination, continued inapplication to study, and bad conduct.

Expenses.

All the charges are payable half-yearly in advance.

Entrance fee, to be paid only once, . . .	$10 00
Tuition, Board and Lodging, per annum, . .	300 00
Washing and mending of linen, per annum, . .	30 00
Medical attendence, per annum, ...	5 00
Day Scholars, per annum, ...	60 00

Use of Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus, $5 per annum for those who attend the classes of Chemistry and Physics; Drawing, $60; Piano and use of Piano, $70; Violin, Flute, etc., $60 each; Spanish and German, $20 each per annum, for those who wish to learn them.

There are other slight expenses for games and societies which the Students form among themselves.

No deduction will be made for absence or withdrawal from College, except on account of sickness or dismissal, and in these cases no deduction will be made for a shorter period than one month.

Books, stationery, clothes, etc., are furnished by the College at current prices, or may be procured by parents or guardians. No uniform is prescribed; all the College requires in the matter of clothing is, that each Student should have, in quality and quantity, what befits a young gentleman. Each one should, on entering or on returning after either vacation, bring enough of clothing to last until the next vacation.

Articles of clothing, books, etc., will not be furnished by the College, unless a deposit for that purpose be made with the Treasurer. No advances will be made beyond the deposit.

Pocket money, if any be allowed by parents or guardians, should be left in the hands of the Treasurer, to be given as prudence may suggest or occasion require.

Students coming from a distance, should have guardians appointed in the vicinity, who will be responsible for the regular payment of bills, and will receive the Student if for any reason he should have to withdraw from the College.

Course of Instruction.

The instruction furnished by this College is of two kinds—Classical and Commercial.

This prize originated with the Most Rev. John Hughes, Archbishop of New York This medal has since been given every year by friends of the College.

We would respectfully suggest to the friends of the College a very good and honorable work, namely, the founding of prizes and scholarships. Such foundations would stimulate young men to greater ardor for serious studies, and, while showing the public spirit and zeal of the founders for education, would enable the College to bestow higher rewards on successful exertions.

General Statement.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE enjoys the powers and privileges of a University, and is conducted by the Jesuit Fathers. It is situated at Fordham, in a picturesque and healthy part of New York county, and is reached in thirty minutes by the Harlem trains, which leave the Grand Central Depot every half hour; moreover, it is easily accessible at all hours and seasons, either by private conveyance over the great boulevards, or by the horse-cars, which lead to the gate at the foot of the College lawn.

The grounds are extensive, well laid out for College purposes, and afford uncommon facilities for athletic sports, for bathing, and for skating. Ample opportunities are also provided for indoor amusements. The buildings are spacious, thoroughly ventilated, and supplied with modern conveniences. The Chemical Laboratory, the Philosophical Apparatus, and the Cabinet of Natural History occupy a separate building; considerable additions are made yearly to this department. Besides the College Library, which contains 20,000 volumes, there is a Circulating Library of over 5,000 volumes, especially adapted to the needs of the Students. Books of reference are kept in the Study Hall for the use of the Students.

Instruction.

The Collegiate year is divided into two terms; the first begins on the first Wednesday of September, the second on the first of February. The best time for admission is at the beginning of either term, but applicants may be received at any time during the year. Candidates for admission, whether coming from their homes, or from other Colleges, are required to present testimonials of good moral character. They are examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in the class to which they are entitled by their attainments.

The scholarship of each Student is determined by weekly competitions in some branch of study, and by examinations. There are two examinations of all the classes every year, one at the end of January, and the other at the end of June. In each of the semi-annual examinations, the several classes are examined in all the branches studied during the previous half year. Any Student failing in the January examination is reduced to a lower class, unless he makes up for the deficiency within a specified time, besides keeping up with the class in its regular work; failure in the June examination debars a Student from advancement to a higher class. A Student failing in any branch at either of the examinations, is not a full member of his class, so long as he does not make up for the deficiency. Testimonials are awarded for superior success in these examinations.

At the beginning of every month the standing of each Student, for conduct and application, during the previous month, is publicly read out in the College Hall, and testimonials are given to those who have attained to the specified degree of excellence.

A record of the weekly competitions, of the monthly standing, and of the general examinations of each Student is kept in the books of the College, and a copy sent to his parents or guardian semi-annually.

Medals, prizes and honors are awarded at the Commencement, and published in the annual Catalogue: for proficiency they are determined by the weekly competitions; for application, and for conduct, by the monthly standing; for scholarship in the several branches of study, by competitions held immediately before the annual Commencement. No one deficient at either of the general examinations can compete for prizes or honors.

A Gold Medal, worth fifty dollars, is yearly awarded to the writer of the best biographical essay on some eminent Catholic layman of the present times, or of past ages. This prize originated with the Most Rev. John Hughes, Archbishop of New York, and has since been given every year by friends of the College.

The Hughes' Medal, founded by Eugene Kelly, Esq., "to perpetuate the memory of Archbishop Hughes," is open for competition to those members of the graduating class who were not deficient in any department of study at either of the general examinations. It is awarded to the Student who, at a special examination in Logic, Ontology, Cosmology, Psychology, and Theodicy, receives the highest number of marks, provided such number does not fall below ninety out of a possible hundred.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred at the close of the College course. The candidates for this honor are required to undergo a successful examination in Natural, Mental, and Moral Philosophy, in Evidences of Religion, in the Philosophy of History, and in the higher Mathematics. Such candidates must also give evidence of having attained a specified standard in Greek and Latin, and in General Literature.

Graduates who desire a fuller mental training may, in the Post-Graduate class, pursue the study of Natural Law, and of other branches of higher education. This second year is of the greatest importance to young men. At the end of this year the degree of Master of Arts is conferred, after a satisfactory examination.

Discipline.

The rules of the College have for their sole end to strengthen and develop the moral character, to promote good breeding, and to secure the order essential to a successful pursuit of learning. These rules, which are read and explained to all, must be accepted and observed faithfully. The manner of enforcing them is firm, yet mild and paternal, and appeals especially to honor, to conscience, and to religion.

The Students form three distinct divisions according to age. Each division has its separate study halls, dormitories, and play grounds, its own gymnasium, billiard and reading rooms.

The correspondence of Students is under the supervision of the College authorities. No books, papers, periodicals, etc., are allowed among the Students until they have been examined and approved.

Students are not permitted to go beyond the College bounds without leave, and without the company of an officer.

The visiting days are Sunday afternoon and Thursday in Summer; Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in Winter.

The Summer vacation begins on the last Wednesday in June, and closes on the first Wednesday in September. There is a vacation of one week at Christmas, but none at Easter.

It is of the utmost importance that Students be present every day of the Collegiate year. Absence subjects them to the loss of marks, and adds to the difficulty of obtaining prizes and honors. Permission, therefore, to visit New York City or home, is granted only at the request of parents or guardians, and for reasons deemed imperative by the President. Moreover, all Students are required not to stay at home beyond the time allotted for vacations, as competition for prizes begins immediately. The attention of parents and guardians is especially called to these regulations, and their co-operation is earnestly solicited.

Students whose parents do not reside in New York City, are not allowed to visit it unless in company of an officer of the College.

The ordinary causes of dismissal are: insubordination, continued inapplication to study, and bad conduct.

Expenses.

All the charges are payable half-yearly in advance.

There are other slight expenses for societies which the Students form among themselves.

No deduction will be made for absence or withdrawal from College, except on account of sickness or dismissal, and in these cases no deduction will be made for a shorter period than one month.

Books, stationery, clothes, etc., are furnished by the College at current prices, or may be procured by parents or guardians. No uniform is prescribed; all the College requires in the matter of clothing is, that each Student should have, in quality and quantity, what befits a young gentleman. Each one should, on entering or on returning after either vacation, bring enough of clothing to last until the next vacation.

Articles of clothing, books, etc., will not be furnished by the College, unless a deposit for that purpose be made with the Treasurer. No advances will be made beyond the deposit.

Pocket money, if any be allowed by parents or guardians, should be left in the hands of the Treasurer, to be given as prudence may suggest or occasion require.

Students coming from a distance, may have guardians appointed in the vicinity, to be responsible for the regular payment of bills, and to receive the Student if for any reason he should have to withdraw from the College.

Course of Instruction.

The instruction furnished by the College is of two kinds—Classical and Commercial.

General Statement.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE enjoys the powers and privileges of a University, and is conducted by the Jesuit Fathers. It is situated at Fordham, in a picturesque and healthy part of New York county, and is reached in thirty minutes by the Harlem trains, which leave the Grand Central Depot every half hour; moreover, it is easily accessible at all hours and seasons, either by private conveyance over the great boulevards, or by the horse-cars, which lead to the gate at the foot of the College lawn.

The grounds are extensive, well laid out for College purposes, and afford uncommon facilities for athletic sports, for bathing, and for skating. Ample opportunities are also provided for indoor amusements. The buildings are spacious, thoroughly ventilated, and supplied with modern conveniences. The Chemical Laboratory, the Philosophical Apparatus, and the Cabinet of Natural History occupy a separate building; considerable additions are made yearly to this department. Besides the College Library, which contains 20,000 volumes, there is a Circulating Library of over 5,000 volumes, especially adapted to the needs of the Students. Books of reference are kept in the Study Hall for the use of the Students.

Instruction.

The Collegiate year is divided into two terms; the first begins on the first Wednesday of September, the second on the first of February. The best time for admission is at the beginning of either term, but applicants may be received at any time during the year.

Candidates for admission, whether coming from their homes, or from other Colleges, are required to present testimonials of good moral character. They are examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in the class to which they are entitled by their attainments.

The scholarship of each Student is determined by weekly competitions in some branch of study, and by examinations. There are two examinations of all the classes every year, one at the end of January, and the other at the end of June. In each of the semi-annual examinations, the several classes are examined in all the branches studied during the previous half year. Any Student failing in the January examination is reduced to a lower class, unless he makes up for the deficiency within a specified time, besides keeping up with the class in its regular work; failure in the June examination debars a Student from advancement to a higher class. A Student failing in any branch at either of the examinations, is not a full member of his class, so long as he does not make up for the deficiency. Testimonials are awarded for superior success in these examinations.

At the beginning of every month the standing of each Student, for conduct and application, during the previous month, is publicly read out in the College Hall, and testimonials are given to those who have attained to the specified degree of excellence.

A record of the weekly competitions, of the monthly standing, and of the general examinations of each Student, is kept in the books of the College, and a copy sent to his parents or guardian semi-annually.

Medals, prizes and honors are awarded at the Commencement, and published in the annual catalogue; for proficiency they are determined by the weekly competitions; for application, and for conduct, by the monthly standing; for scholarship in the several branches of study, by competitions held immediately before the annual Commencement. No one deficient at either of the general examinations can compete for prizes or honors.

A Gold Medal, worth fifty dollars, is yearly awarded to the writer of the best biographical essay on some eminent Catholic layman of the present times, or of past ages. This prize originated with the Most Rev. John Hughes, Archbishop of New York, and has since been given every year by friends of the College.

The HUGHES' MEDAL, founded by Eugene Kelly, Esq., "to perpetuate the memory of Archbishop HUGHES," is open for competition to those members of the graduating class who were not deficient in any department of study at either of the general examinations. It is awarded to the Student who, at a special examination in Logic, Ontology, Cosmology, Psychology, and Theodicy, receives the highest number of marks, provided such number does not fall below ninety out of a possible hundred.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred at the close of the College course. The candidates for this honor are required to undergo a successful examination in Natural, Mental and Moral Philosophy, in Evidences of Religion, in the Philosophy of History, and in the higher Mathematics. Such candidates must also give evidence of having attained a specified standard in Greek and Latin, and in General Literature.

Graduates who desire a fuller mental training may, in the Post-graduate class, pursue the study of Natural Law, and of other branches of higher education. This second year is of the greatest importance to young men. At the end of this year the degree of Master of Arts is conferred, after a satisfactory examination.

Discipline.

The rules of the College have for their sole end to strengthen and develop the moral character, to promote good breeding, and to secure the order essential to a successful pursuit of learning. These rules, which are read and explained to all, must be accepted and observed faithfully. The manner of enforcing them is firm, yet mild and paternal, and appeals especially to honor, to conscience, and to religion.

The Students form three distinct divisions according to age. Each division has its separate study halls, dormitories and play grounds, its own gymnasium, billiard and reading rooms.

The correspondence of Students is under the supervision of the College authorities. No books, papers, periodicals, etc., are allowed among the Students until they have been examined and approved.

Students are not permitted to go beyond the College bounds without leave, and without the company of an officer.

The visiting days are Sunday afternoon and Thursday in Summer; Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in Winter.

The Summer vacation begins on the last Wednesday in June, and closes on the first Wednesday in September. There is a vacation of one week at Christmas, but none at Easter.

It is of the utmost importance that Students be present every day of the Collegiate year. Absence subjects them to the loss of marks, and adds to the difficulty of obtaining prizes and honors. Permission, therefore, to visit New York city or home, is granted only at the request of parents or guardians, and for reasons deemed imperative by the President. Moreover, all Students are required not to stay at home beyond the time allotted for vacations, as competition for prizes begins immediately. The attention of parents and guardians is especially called to these regulations, and their co-operation is earnestly solicited.

Students whose parents do not reside in New York city, are not allowed to visit it unless in company of an officer of the College.

The ordinary causes of dismissal are: insubordination, continued inapplication to study, and bad conduct.

Expenses.

All the charges are payable half-yearly in advance.

Entrance fee, to be paid only once, . .	$10 00
Tuition and Board, per annum, . .	300 00
Washing and mending of linen, per annum, .	30 00

There are other slight expenses for societies which the Students form among themselves.

No deduction will be made for absence or withdrawal from College, except on account of sickness or dismissal, and in these cases no deduction will be made for a shorter period than one month.

Books, stationery, clothes, etc., are furnished by the College at current prices, or may be procured by parents or guardians. No uniform is prescribed; all the College requires in the matter of clothing is, that each Student should have, in quality and quantity, what befits a young gentleman. Each one should, on entering or on returning after either vacation, bring enough of clothing to last until the next vacation.

Articles of clothing, books, etc., will not be furnished by the College, unless a deposit for that purpose be made with the Treasurer. No advances will be made beyond the deposit.

Pocket money, if any be allowed by parents or guardians, should be left in the hands of the Treasurer, to be given as prudence may suggest or occasion require.

Students coming from a distance, may have guardians appointed in the vicinity, to be responsible for the regular payment of bills, and to receive the Student if for any reason he should have to withdraw from the College.
